

I'm Divya Banda Pogaru

As a Learning Partner, I specialise in using methodologies such as Theatre of the Oppressed and storytelling to communicate concepts. As an art-based facilitator, I excel at giving people the opportunity to see themselves as change agents and take ownership of their lives. From sessions on negotiation skills and leadership development to goal alignment and strategy execution, my trainings cover a wide variety of themes and industries. Participants in my sessions often speak of their experience of being deeply engaged, breaking self-imposed limitations and experiencing real-time collaboration in the learning process.

When I'm not facilitating workshops, you'll find me indulging in my love for fashion. My friends would tell you about the excellent filter coffee that I make and my skills in planning.

Core Competencies

Goal Alignment | Communication | Conflict Management | Change Management | Team Building | Leadership Skills | Collaboration | Effective Feedback

Professional Development

- Appreciative Inquiry
- Theatre for Living with David Diamond, (Theatre for Living, Canada)
- Theatre of the Oppressed with Radha Ramaswamy, (CCDC, Bangalore)
- Sociocracy by John Buck (USA),
- Storytelling by Sue Hollingsworth (London) & Gilly Southwood (South Africa)

Industries Covered in Training

Information Technology | Financial Services | Retail | Engineering |